TAXABLE TRANSFERS

Unless specifically exempted, the tax on the transfer of real property imposed by RSA 78-B applies to each contractual transfer of real estate or interest therein including transfer of a title. Listed below are some of the more common types of contractual transfers of real estate that are not exempted from transfer tax. (Note: the amount of the tax due on all of the transfers listed below must be determined based on the actual price of consideration paid, with a $40 minimum). A contractual transfer (i.e. one that is not a true gift) between related parties is taxable on the fair market value of the property involved.

The most common types of taxable contractual transfers are:

- A sale or granting of a right-of-way or an easement on property.
- A transfer of real estate or any interest therein through a foreclosure or by a deed in lieu of foreclosure, even in instances where the buyer and the seller are the same person or entity. (The consideration in such transfers is the reduction in the obligor's debt plus the amount of debt assumed by the transferee).
- A sale, granting or transfer of real estate or an interest in real estate by a trustee in bankruptcy. (Note: Transfers authorized by a bankruptcy court as part of a reorganization of a company under Chapter 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Code are not subject to transfer tax.)
- Leases of real estate when the term of the lease is 99 years or longer, or leases of shorter duration if renewal rights extend the total period of time to 99 years or more.

- Transfers pursuant to a merger, consolidation, or other reorganization qualify as a tax-free reorganization as defined in section 368 of the US IRC of 1986; (prior to July 1, 2001, transfers of this nature were exempt).
- Transfers pursuant to a conversion from one form of ownership interest to another. Prior to July 1, 2001, transfers of this type were exempt if each entity had transferable shares and their assets, liabilities and ownership interests were identical before and after the transfer.
